

AHYUN JEON

BIO

Ahyun Jeon (b. 1997) is a painter based in Seoul and New York. In her work, she captures dual and simultaneous multiple appearances of human beings, that is, the short moment when positive and negative aspects coexist, and draws the ambiguity itself.

However, just as we do not infer our status every moment, she also already draws figures before any perceptual activity occurs. She visualizes the ambiguous “it” state in a constant change through her sight.
